Best in Class Security
Enhanced Privacy Protection

When it comes to protecting private health care records accessible via Patients and mobile devices, nothing but the best will do. Patient Forward™ has a strategic relationship with DOD proven Animetrics so that only you and the Patient can access Patient's personal health care information. Animetrics' patented technology provides not one, not two but three levels of authentication all within 11 seconds utilizing the usual user ID and password, as well as encrypted handshake with your cell phone (not sms txt) and finally biometric identification with a simple photograph either via your cell phone or a camera on a computer or even a tablet. Changed your cell phone device and lost your password? No worries, our technology enables Patient Forward™ to verify your identity with two quick pictures and correct answer to select profile question—sophisticated technology previously only available to the likes of the President of the United States but we think the security of your patient's health records is worth it! Unheard of for electronic health records, all telemedicine appointment records are signed by you the doctor — let there be no mistake. When a Patient shares their records with you or forwards to a consumer record site such as Google Health or Microsoft Health Vault — the patient's very own secure digital signature makes it happen. Not only exceeding HIPAA standards, our comprehensive security and privacy model had to pass the rigor of our Globally Recognized Security Expert.
